The diagrams illustrate the variation of the real and imaginary parts of functions $h_5$, $h_6$, $h_7$, and $h_8$ with respect to the distance from a conical point. Each graph shows the logarithmic scale for the magnitude of the real and imaginary parts, indicating the behavior of these functions as the distance changes.